Local Fuchsia Society Votes in New Officers

Torrance Branch of the California National Fuchsia Society held an election Tuesday at McMasters Hall. Frank Hinkel was elected president, Mrs. Stephen Boyko, vice president, Henry Jenkins, secretary, Mrs. J. Edward Hechinger, treasurer, Mrs. Henry Glenn, representative and Mrs. John Wehrman, alternate.

Hinkel is an avid fuchsia grower. He also has quite a collection of roses, adding new varieties each year as they come on the market. His added hobby of photography also finds an outlet in the varied plants which he enjoys growing.

Mrs. Stephen Boyko as vice-president will also be program director and her artistic abilities and flair for organizing interesting presentations will be an asset to the club.

Henry Jenkins has been active in cub scout work and lately in the Babe Ruth League.

Mrs. J. Edward Hechinger finds gardening a nice leisure hobby, her ferns, begonias, in covered patio disprove the word leisure, but shows she works with them. Mrs. Henry Glenn as alternate proved so good with her friendly enthusiasm the branch feel fortunate to now have her as their representative.

Mrs. John Wehrman, alternate is a true gardener, from the cacti to the fuchsia her interest shows in her lovely yard.

Installation will be held on Sept. 8th with the President of the California National Fuchsia Society, Elmer O. Monson, acting as installing officer, in a brief simple ceremony.

The program will be rounded

WHIPPING UP A PUMPKIN PIE—Mrs. Ralph M. Robertson of 22111 Harvard Blvd., winner of the Carl's Mother of the Year contest, always has time for important "extras" for the family. Mrs. Robertson, who believes in keeping busy, gains time by keeping away from housewifely coffee-clatches.

Gossiping Over Coffee Cups Voted Out by Mother of Year

Gossiping with the neighbors didn't land her the Mother of the Year Award. According to Mrs. Ralph Robertson, winner of the recent Carl's Market contest, idle chatter with the neighbors won't make the beds or wash the dishes either.

"Most women just don't care," she says in referring to the morning long coffee and cigarette breaks many housewives seem addicted to.

When Mrs. Robertson of 22111 Harvard Blvd. has a job to do she does it and believes that's the whole secret to "easy" homemaking.

"I never go to bed with unwashed dishes in the sink or a cluttered house," she says. As to her husband, "he'll pitch in and help in an emergency but otherwise it's up to me."

A carpenter he is handy around the house when it comes to building, but Mrs. Robertson does most of the yard work and odd painting jobs.

Strict Routine Wash on Monday, iron on Tuesday, mend on Wednesday. Mrs. Robertson is a firm advocate of a strict routine.

"Even before the girls were born I always kept busy," she says.

was so excited I could hardly talk, believe me," she confesses. Best reward of all though, she concludes was the fact that Lana entered her name all on her own.

Mrs. Robertson who has lived in this area since her childhood, admits that as far back as she can remember being around a family was the most important thing to her.

No Career "I never had any desire for a career or anything like that."

Canning, sewing and baking are all part of the everyday routine to Mrs. Robertson. How she manages her time to include the many extras for her family is no secret.

"Any housewife that is really interested in her home can do the same," she says.

The family is quite close, with games in the new rumpus room an evening must. The Robertsons also entertain quite frequently, are active in civic affairs and admit to being bridge addicts.

On Toes With two sharp eyed daughters, Lana, age 10, and Laura, 7, on hand, Mrs. Robertson says she has to keep on her toes.

"When the call came through saying I had won the contest, I
